Typically, your professional talent and experience is focused on dentistry. To handle the negotiations, business, legal and other requirements of a practice transition, adding necessary skills and experience to complement your own can be of significant value to you.

We will prepare you for your transition and be there, step by step, to provide the support, knowledge and expertise you need for a smooth and successful purchase or sale. We anticipate many issues that can come up, and answer your questions and concerns. We also negotiate for you or with you and, when an agreement is reached, create the legal and tax structure to solidify the transaction and protect you.
